Grand Lodge Treasury Contains $40 Reserve for Each of More Than 2,000 Members.

Seventy-Five of Eighty Delegates are Attending State Convention—Thirty-Four Lodges Represented—Former Officers Will be Re-Elected.

The Connecticut Grand Lodge of the Sons of Hermann, more properly known as the Sons of the American Revolution, is holding its 14th biennial convention in this city. The session will last two days and was called to order this morning by President William Hobein of Colvilleville. The organization claims to be the strongest fraternal insurance organization in the State, having a reserve fund of nearly $40 per capita for each of its 2,035 members not including the women's branch of the organization, which has 1,499 members and a grand lodge of its own.

There are 75 delegates present of a possible 80, and the such as property men have been made for their entertainment at Germania hall where the convention is being held that they will not have to leave this morning to sleep. The meals for the visitors will be served in the society's new restaurant. There are 34 lodges in the State and every one is represented.

The four largest lodges in the State are represented as follows: Frieden's lodge of New Haven, 7 delegates; Teutonia lodge of Hartford, 6 delegates; Leaning lodge of Seymour, 5 delegates; and Heine lodge of this city, 5 delegates.

The greater part of the morning was devoted to the reading of the reports of the officers. Although Vice President Gus Loewenthal of Middletown will be nominated for the presidency, it is understood that Mr. Loewenthal will withdraw in favor of President Hobein, so that the indications are that the entire set of officers will be re-elected. They are as follows:

President—William Hobein, of Colvilleville; vice president, Gus Loewenthal of Middletown; second vice president, Charles E. Schaeffer of South Norwalk; secretary, Otto Berger of Ansonia; treasurer, Cuno Helfrich of Hartford.

A splendid concert for the benefit of the delegates has been arranged for tonight, when the choruses of the Germania Singing Society and the Germania Maenner Chor will sing several pieces. Solos will be rendered by Joseph Weiler, Matt Wier, Miss Elizabeth Steinmetz and Mrs. Emma Brock. The committee which arranged for the entertainment of the guests is composed of Jacob Hurliman, chairman; Fred Schaeffer, Emil Eidelman, William Bruchlin, George Wier, Alois Schaeffer, John Schwartz, Gus Natske, Cuno Fink and Carl Henkel.

Boy of Ten Grows to Man of 28 Without Seeing Father After Latter Deserts Family

Youthful Annie Cihak, Married to Man Twice Her Age Willing to be Reconciled, but Husband Would not—Divorce Day in Superior Court.

It took Josephine T. Brown of Fairfield, just five minutes to obtain a separation from her husband, John W. Brown, of parts unknown, in the Superior court this afternoon, Judge Burge of Waterbury being the officiating judge. The couple were married in Fairfield in 1875, then resided in Brooklyn, and after five years returned to Fairfield. Here they remained for ten years, till 1890. Mr. Brown was in business in New York and used to come to Fairfield Saturday afternoons, returning to the city Sunday evenings. One Sunday evening he left as usual, but never again was seen in Fairfield. It was about five weeks after this disappearance that he wrote his wife sending her a small sum of money. The next time she heard from him he was in Manitoba, Canada. Albert T. Brown, a son of the plaintiff, aged 28 and a mechanical engineer in New York, told the court the last time he saw his father was when he was ten years old. The decree was given on the ground of desertion.

Adeline C. Raymond, who resides with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Pauline Raymond, of Fairfield, was freed from Frank C. Raymond, also of this city, on the ground of desertion. The couple were married April 17, 1880, and the desertion occurred April 1, 1904. Mrs. Raymond said her husband never supported her and that she had often to go to her sister-in-law for support. She testified that she was the defendant and of the scarcity of food in his household.

John Cihak, a pretty young matron of Danbury, married Charles Oscar, June 3, 1896, and he deserted her April 5, 1904. They have three children, all at present living with their mother in Danbury. Mrs. Oscar told the court that her husband was a machinist earning good pay in New York City and Brooklyn. He was working in Brooklyn when they came to live in Danbury, but he soon left her. She testified that she was the defendant and of the scarcity of food in his household.

The evils of youthful marriage, especially when one of the contracting parties is a minor, was discussed by the court. The judge said that if the other were brought out in court today when Anna E. Cihak, a pretty brunette, who lives in the East End, was divorced from her husband, John Cihak, an oysterman, also of the East End. Annie Gill on Feb. 8, 1893, when but 16 years of age, married John Cihak, who was 30. While they lived together the parents of each supported them. Since the separation in 1903 the wife has tried to be reconciled with her husband, but when she broached the subject he cursed her. The court allowed the decree and a change of name.

Marigold Will Make Popular Volunteer Officer Superintendent of East Side Station.

Many Appointments and Promotions Announced—Annual Inspection of Carriers Takes Place—Arrangements for West End House Warming—Plans for Clerk's Convention—Lively Day in Post Office.

It was a red letter time among the employees of the Postoffice department in this city, to-day. Postmaster William H. Marigold announced in the morning a list of appointments and promotions to meet the conditions created by the opening of the West End station. This afternoon at 2 o'clock he reviewed the carriers, who lined up in the Arcade for annual inspection. The force was found in spick and span condition. Moreover the program for the house warming in the West End station was announced, and much of the detail connected with the state convention of postoffice clerks, to be held Monday, was fixed.

Letter Carrier Fred J. Breckhill will be promoted to the position of superintendent of the East Side station, vice Archie Levery, who resigns from service. James L. Christie, the present superintendent, will be in charge of the new West End station. Letter Carrier Winfield C. Meyer will be transferred to the main office as assistant to the chief clerk, William Meyer, the cashier of the post office, the increased volume of work making more assistance a necessity.

Mr. Breckhill was a volunteer captain in the service of the United States during the Spanish war. He was appointed a substitute carrier July 9, 1890, and a regular carrier July 15, 1900. Captain Breckhill has a distinguished record in military matters. He was captain of Battery B, Connecticut Artillery, volunteer, and was in charge of the new West End station. Letter Carrier Winfield C. Meyer will be transferred to the main office as assistant to the chief clerk, William Meyer, the cashier of the post office, the increased volume of work making more assistance a necessity.

Winfield C. Meyer was appointed a substitute carrier September 1, 1898, and a regular carrier, March 1, 1899. He was a member of the Naval and Military Order of Spanish War Veterans, and connected with a number of other organizations. He was working in Brooklyn when they came to live in Danbury, but he soon left her. She testified that she was the defendant and of the scarcity of food in his household.

Estimated Value of Oil Magnate's Estate Placed at Nearly $75,000,000—Trust to Provide Annuity of $100,000 For Widow.

(Special from United Press.)

New York, May 28.—With the exception of a $10,000 fund, the income of which for the use of the primary and grammar schools of his native town of Fairhaven, Mass., the will of Henry H. Rogers, the Standard Oil magnate, disposes of an estate estimated to be worth nearly $75,000,000, with no provision for charitable or educational institutions.

The will, filed for probate today, is not surprising in this respect, however, because it was hinted at the time of Mr. Rogers' death last week that practically the whole of his vast fortune would go to his immediately family.

Aside from a few minor bequests, chief of which is the creation of a trust for the benefit of his widow, to receive an annuity of $100,000, the estate is divided into four trust funds, one for each of the four children. The bulk of the residue, however, is to be paid to the children, and automobiles are left to the widow. A trust fund of not less than $2,500,000 nor more than $3,000,000 is created to provide for the education of the children.

Upon her death the property of which she has the use and her trust fund become part of the residuary estate of the testator. When the testator is given to the son, Henry H. Rogers, Jr. Various trust funds ranging from $100,000 to $200,000 and aggregating $250,000 are created for the benefit of his children. The income from these trusts is to be paid to the beneficiaries during their lives and on their death the principal of the trust reverts to the residuary estate.

A bequest of $100,000 is given to Fairhaven as a permanent fund, the income from which is to go to the primary and grammar schools of the town. After providing for these bequests, the residuary estate is divided into four trusts, one for the benefit of each of the four children. The bulk of the residue, however, is to be paid to the children, and automobiles are left to the widow. A trust fund of not less than $2,500,000 nor more than $3,000,000 is created to provide for the education of the children.

New Charge Against Junk Dealer Relates to Copper Stolen from Bridgeport Brass Company.

In City Court Two Brass Thieves Plead Guilty and Two Accused Demur

Four are Held in Total Bond of $6,000—Why Job Was Given to State Police

Harris Ruderman, the well known junk dealer, and his son, Charles, demurred to the charge of statutory burglary, which embraces the alleged taking of hundreds of dollars worth of brass from the junk shop of Secretary of State M. H. Rogers. The demurrers were overruled by Judge Foster, and they were bound over in $1,500 each, the amount fixed when they were arrested yesterday.

John Machinski and Frank Strumski, employees of Mr. Rogers, who confess that they stole the brass for the Rudermans, pleaded guilty. They also were held for the Superior court in $1,500 each.

Harris Ruderman's troubles will be further accentuated today when State Detective Frank Virelli makes application to Prosecutor DeLaney for a warrant for the junk dealer's arrest upon the charge of receiving stolen copper, the property of the Bridgeport Brass Company. When search was made in Ruderman's junk yard a sheet of brass was found, which was identified by Secretary Webster as material only made by his company, and of a kind not sold in Bridgeport. The junk yard is opposite the plant of the company, on Housatonic avenue.

The State police are much pleased over the success of their efforts in the affair of the brass thefts. According to the statement of Detective Virelli the property of several men were seized before the job was done. In the beginning he was assisted by two other members of the State force. Later on the property was taken by the detective bureau, who assisted in the work of breaking down the suspects, Strumski and Machinski.

The chase took Virelli to three cities, Bridgeport, Union City, and Yonkers, N. Y., where Strumski was arrested with the assistance of Lieut. Detective Peter McGowan.

It is also said that the State police feel much cause for congratulation in being invited to take charge of so important a case affecting a member of the State government as prominent as Secretary of State Rogers.

It was the purpose of the police to discontinue the abilities of the local police. It was believed, it is said, that the Rudermans knew the local police almost as well as they knew each other.

Vanderbilt Cup Drivers are Going to be in Evidence at Monday's Big Meet.

Car Specially Built for Grand Prix Race in France to be a Contestant For President's Cup.

Military Policing of Course—Referee Riker to Start First Race Promptly at 8 O'clock—Official Program Will Not Be Issued Till Monday Morning—Automobile Club to Outdo Itself—Hours for Trial Speeding Limited.

The sensational entry for the hill climb of the Automobile Club of Bridgeport at Sport Hill next Monday morning at 8 o'clock is the 129 p. Panhard. Chairman Ralph M. Sperry of the contest committee received this entry yesterday from J. Walter Webb of New York, an amateur. Mr. Webb has entered in both the amateur and free-for-all events. He has his eye on the president's cup.

This Panhard car was made for the grand prix in France. This week it did good work in the Yale hill climb at Bridgeport. When Mr. Webb was not having everything his own way at Sport Hill as John Tyson, the Stamford millionaire has entered his new 100 h. p. DeDietrich and will drive it himself in both the amateur class and the free-for-all. This car is said to be very fast.

Mr. Webb will also enter his Isotta Briarcliff winner which made a gallant attempt to capture the record at Sport Hill last year but failed because of a cracked incident valve. The same driver, Glenn Ebridge, will pilot the car. This car won the Briarcliff road race when driven by Louis Strang. A companion Isotta in the hands of Al. Foote, will be recalled, established a 17.12 sec. as a new record for Sport Hill.

This morning Mr. Sperry received a check from E. E. Moskowitz, president of the Bristol Engineering Works entering a 60 h. p. Allen-Kingston. Also by the courtesy of Mr. Moskowitz, a two Simplex car in the amateur and free-for-all from Carl A. Broesel of New York.

Harry D. Miller, president of the Bridgeport Vehicle Club, announced today that one of the 60 h. p. Renaults entered by him would be driven by Huttner, a Vanderbilt cup driver in this city yesterday. He said he should attend the hill climb and might possibly drive one of the Simplex cars.

This afternoon at one o'clock President Staples of the Automobile club took a party of local newspaper men for a tour of inspection of the hill. They found the hill in prime condition the rain having packed down and hardened the new work recently done at the foot of the hill by the E. D. Pierce Jr. Co. The temporary bridge for pedestrians was being constructed and the official stands at both the start and finish were in position.

The newspaper men expressed satisfaction at the ample quarters provided for them.

George E. Hawes, commanding the 14th company, Coast Artillery expects to make a fine showing with his troops in keeping the course car. The company is strong on all leaves the armory at 6, Monday morning in three big busses and upon arriving at Sport Hill will at once perform guard mount and drill exercises. The men are much interested in their task and will go to the hill fully equipped for the field. Captain Hawes will maintain right in the position of leader. Regarding the experience as admirable for his company. He will have entire charge of the arrangements for guests and spectators, and will have beside his own company a corps of 25 special flagmen from Easton.

The Automobile club will take as few chances on there being accidents as possible, and will insist that spectators keep off the course for their own safety during the contests.

The Automobile club has engaged Room 220 on the second floor of Stratfield for special headquarters for the contest. All desired information can be obtained at this room. This evening a meeting of both the contest committee and the board of governors will be held in this room to wind up the details for the hill climb.

Selectman Candee of Easton wishes all of the flag men to report at Robert's house at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

After to-night members of the Automobile club will have to secure parking space for individuals. Assistant Secretary Lyon will hold the chart open until this evening only.

No classification of cars and events will be published until the issuance of the official program Monday morning. This program will be absolutely correct in detail and will be published by the Bridgeport Press club and the proceeds go to the Press club by courtesy of the Automobile club. The program is compiling it and will distribute it at ten cents each at Sport Hill Monday morning.

Between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock the hill will be open to "ractice by contestants, to-morrow, but no speeding will be allowed on Sunday. All racing will be prosecuted by the Automobile club and the selectmen of Easton. Richard Sheridan is on duty with red flag during practice hours. Wire Chief Berthelson reported to-day that all of the wiring and telephone stations were in position.

Referee A. L. Riker stated this afternoon that the first car would be sent up the hill exactly at 8 o'clock Monday morning and that all contestants must be in readiness at 7 o'clock. The press cars will leave the Stratfield at 6:30 o'clock.

The trophies are on exhibition at the store of Davis & Hawley Co. on Main street. Those desiring to reach Sport Hill must take Brooklawn avenue due south. It is a straight road. Part of it is torn up for repairs.

HOUSE ADJOURNS WITHOUT ACTION

(Special from United Press.)

Hartford, May 28.—The adjournment of the members of the House to attending Friday sessions was very evident to-day when they met at 11:30. In the absence of Speaker Banks, Mr. Scott of Plymouth was elected Speaker, and upon the motion of Mr. Parker of Hartford, the House immediately adjourned.

CONEY ISLAND WINS FIRST ROUND

(Special from United Press.)

New York, May 28.—The official test of the round in their fight to close Coney Island amusement establishments when Magistrate Trite, in the Coney Island court, discharged Thomas Devers and three others arrested on warrants charging them with violating the Sunday law. Devers was a member of the Coney Island club, and the other three were others ran different establishments. The court said that the evidence did not show a violation of the law. The next move will be for the Mayor's as four hundred cases in which evidence of alleged violation of the law hung on this single test case.

MISSING MEMORY OF INJURED MAN MYSTIFIES POLICE

Well Dressed Emergency Hospital Visitor Says He Remembers Nothing Since Fall From Automobile.

One of the most peculiar cases the police have had to deal with in some time is that of George Scheurer, a making man, who was found lying on the street last night after he had been injured by a fall from an automobile last night and that he cannot remember anything else back of that time.

He claims to reside at 697 E. 161st street, New York, and has given the police the names of several people that are in his mind, but he does not know where they live, and has given the police a doctor, the owner of two automobiles, who he said he had been acquainted with and had fallen off the running board of the car while it was in motion. He said that he did not know where he well off, but he had kept walking until he found the dispensary. He talked so strangely that the doctor turned the case over to the police.

"Dr. Mulholland" was the name of one of the men mentioned by Scheurer. Such a doctor, the owner of two automobiles, was found residing near Central Park. He said he did not know Scheurer and that both of his cars were in the garage last night. "George Wesley", another New York automobile owner, denied knowing anyone answering Scheurer's description or name.

CRIMINAL TERM OF SUPERIOR COURT CLOSED THIS MORNING

The May term of the Superior court, criminal side, Judge Silas A. Robinson on the bench, and a jury which has been in session since May 14th, came to a close this morning. Only one case tried to-day, the jury finding Rufus Phillips and James Green of Greenwich, guilty of statutory burglary. Each was sentenced to a year, but suspension of sentence and placed them in the hands of Probation Officer Charles A. Allen of Greenwich.

A hearing was held on the application for reward of Joseph Knowlton of Danbury who gave information causing the arrest of John W. Robbins and Larry Ryan in Danbury for postlarceny. Knowlton was allowed the state reward of $50. The convicted men two weeks ago received one month in jail each.

MADE $5.50 FRAUDING UNITED STATES AND GOT ONE YEAR IN JAIL

Vorias, Who Assisted Lekas in Naturalization Scheme, Discharged Because of His Stupidity.

The making of a false statement for the purpose of obtaining a naturalization certificate, which he sold for $5.50, was the means of depriving John Lekas of this city of his liberty for a year. Judge James P. Platt and a jury in the United States District Court, Hartford, on Tuesday, on the charge of making a false statement before William R. Shelton, clerk of the court in Fairfield county, and yesterday afternoon the jury found him guilty. Judge Platt sentenced him to be imprisoned in the Fairfield county jail for one year. The man was fortunate that he was not sent to the United States prison in Atlanta, Ga., where judges of the United States courts in this section of the country, under the law, have to send all prisoners who are committed for more than one year.

Costas Vorias, alias Gust Vorias, the man who impersonated another Greek to whom Lekas sold the certificate, was allowed to go. Vorias is densely dull and it was the belief that he did what he was asked to do by Lekas because he knew no better, while Lekas is a bright fellow. Vorias was arrested in Chicago and brought East, and after he had been indicted on Tuesday by the grand jury he pleaded guilty to violating the Federal statute. He went on the stand as a witness for the government, and was of material assistance to the prosecution in bringing about the conviction of Lekas. Lekas was brought to the Fairfield county jail last night.

STATE PRISON CROWDED; BOVE YET IN JAIL

Dominico Bove, who was sentenced to 15 years in the State prison yesterday, remains the guest of the county jail. It was said at the jail this morning that the prison is full and that Bove will remain in confinement here until room can be made for him there. It was thought that it may be 10 days before he can be released.

Bove, it was said, takes his sentence quietly, and appears to be rather pleased to think that he is not subjected to a worse fate. He has been a docile prisoner and seems to be grateful to the jail authorities for their considerate treatment of him.
